NO. 31

NEWS OF THE VICINAGE.

Laurel is to have a new jail. Ex-Circuit Judge Wm. E. Russell died at Lebanon, aged 70. Ebenezer is a new Mercer county postoffice with W. S. Sallee in charge. R. W. Wallin, formerly of Crab Orchard, will open a restaurant at Broadhead. A Masonic temple will be dedicated at London, June 23, with imposing ceremonies. J. J. Evans, a farmer living near Science Hill, Pulaski county, died last week, aged 58. The court has ordered the sale of the Richmond Electric Light plant July 12, up to price $8,000. The Mountain Signal, of Manchester, has thrown up the sponge because of a lack of patronage. The L. & N. won the suit brought in Virginia to force it to reduce its fare from 4 to 3 cents a mile. The Harrodsburg Democrat is tickled to death because the prospects are good for a big blackberry crop in Mercer.

Judge Sautley decided that the hitching posts around the public square in Harrodsburg are a nuisance and ordered the county judge to have them removed.

Judge J. H. Wilson went to Leslie yesterday to hold court. It is said that the clerk will recognize him as the judge of the court and record his acts as such. Judge Brown's friends have some uneasiness as to the outcome of the matter.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to arrest John L. Powers, under indictment as an accessory to the murder of Gov. Goebel. A posse quietly formed and left Harrodsburg for the home of Powers' brother-in-law on Poplar Creek, but a runner had been sent out ahead and Powers had fled when the posse arrived.

CHURCHES AND PREACHERS.

Elds. Sharrard and Shouse are holding a meeting at Old Union in Bourbon, that had resulted in 12 additions to Friday.

Two Mormon elders were egged by a crowd of young men at Corbin, while attempting to preach on the public streets. Several handfuls of gravel were also thrown at them but they escaped injury.

Of all the Northern Methodist papers only two, the New York Advocate and the Pittsburg Advocate, paid expenses during the past four years. All the other organs lost money, the amount being $108,000.

Rev. W. R. Lloyd has returned from Disputanta, in Rockcastle, where he organized a promising little church of 21 members. Rev. Dietrich, of Berea, was engaged to preach two Sundays in each month, and Rev. Lloyd says he expects to hear of much good being done by this little band of Christians—Richmond Register.

A WINNING PLATFORM.

The democracy in convention assembled at Louisville reaffirms the Chicago platform and instructs the 26 delegates to vote for its reaffirmation in whole and in part and for Wm. Jennings Bryan for president.

The foreign policy of the present National administration is denounced as un-American in its attempts to establish a system of imperial government for our recently acquired territory. The tariff enforced upon the people of Porto Rico is condemned. The single gold standard also comes in for sound denunciation.

Sympathy is extended to the two South African republics in their struggle to maintain independence against the aggressiveness of Great Britain.

Trusts are condemned for monopolizing industry and crushing out independent producers of limited means. The republican party, having control of both Houses of Congress, and the Executive, is condemned for failing and refusing to enact any law for their suppression.

The democratic State administration is commended for its conservatism in appealing to the law to settle all questions in dispute, and the General Assembly is congratulated on the vindication of its course by the highest judicial tribunal of the State and Federal government.

The last clause is in full as follows: We declare the assassination of our late lamented leader, William Goebel, to be the result of a conspiracy of the republican party. We denounce this atrocious crime as without a parallel in all history.

We condemn the action of William S. Taylor in bringing to the State capital an armed force of lawless men for the purpose of intimidating the Legislature and assassinating the democratic members thereof. We condemn his action in calling out the militia and placing himself at its head to obstruct the processes of the law and to overthrow our republican form of government. We denounce his attempt to disperse the Legislature, a co-ordinate branch of the government, by the use of armed force as arbitrary, unconstitutional and unprecedented. We condemn him for obstructing the execution of the writ of habeas corpus, for refusing to obey the civil process of the law, for harboring those suspected of the murder of William Goebel, and for attempting to pardon them before accusation or indictment, for using the militia to protect those charged with murder, while attempting to flee from the State; and we denounce him for disgracing the State of Kentucky by fleeing the jurisdiction of its courts and remaining a fugitive from justice under the protection of the republican government of Indiana.

The delegates to the National convention from the 11th are W. R. Cress, Wayne; W. S. Rhorer, Bell; Alterations, R. C. Ford, Bell; D. R. Hammond, Laurel. The electors are John W. Collier, Pulaski; assistant, R. Allen Sandidge, Cumberland. The convention unanimously adopted the report of the committee on organization, giving to the voters the right to elect their own precinct committees, except in cities of the first and second classes. It provides that in the future when vacancies occur in any of the county or district committees they shall be filled by the democrats of the precinct in which they occur, after due notice is given by the chairman of such committee of the vacancy and time and place of the election, provided, however, on the third Monday of November of this year the voters shall assemble at their various voting places and elect a committeeman to serve for four years, and on the Monday following the election of the committeemen they shall meet in their various county seats and organize by electing a chairman.

STORY OF A SLAVE. To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work. This cure was secured for female diseases quickly, cure nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This little working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c. Sold by Penny, Druggist."

The Minnesota grand lodge of Odd Fellows, which had previously excluded liquor dealers, bartenders and professional gamblers from membership, voted at its session last week to exclude hotel keepers who have bars and even druggists, who handle liquor.

BISMARCK'S IRON NERVE. Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring, use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25c at Penny's Drug Store.

Charles H. Marks, while acting in the capacity of nurse at the Second Division Hospital of the Fifth Army Corps at Santiago de Cuba, used a few bottles of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for diarrhoea and found it to work like a charm. For sale by Craig & Hooser.

SALESMEN WANTED.—By the Erie Automatic Computing Scale Co. for Kentucky territory. For particulars address C. M. Henry, State Agent, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

MT. VERNON.

Fritz Krueger freed his big brick kiln Monday.

John French and Martha Doan were married last week.

The meanest fling in Gov. Mount's explanation of his refusal to extradite Taylor, was his statement that the Louisville Post was a democratic newspaper.

A verdict of guilty, no doubt, would be rendered against the Louisville Post and Dispatch in any actions brought against them, charging false pretenses on their claims of being democratic sheets.

Near Pine Hill last Thursday afternoon, John Pitman shot Bob Owens, the ball entered below and to the right of the left nipple, passing through the body. An old grudge, liquor, women, etc. Pitman gave bond in $250 and examining trial set for today, Monday.

People who have their gardens uprooted by sand splitter hogs or any other kind for that matter, don't feel like counting 10 before speaking, but are liable to say ugly things about the owners who turn the streets, alleys and commons into hog pastures. The writer is a late sufferer and is too mad to pursue the subject further. Would be glad to hire an old sailor to do some swearing against the hogs.

The Richmond, Ky., syndicate, who are to build a 10-mile road up Brush Creek, this county, continue to buy large and small tracts of timber and mineral lands along the right of way and today control most of the lands lying on both sides of the line its full length. They own thousands of acres and have purchased mineral rights in thousands more. There are a number of veins of coal on the line running from five to six feet in thickness and of the best quality, including many veins of fire cannon.

G. W. Baker, an old Rockcastle boy, who has been with the Singer Machine Company at Macon, Ga., for the past two years, has returned to his work after a two weeks' visit to his daughter, Miss Roca, and other relatives in this county. Miss Wilson, of Williams-town, is visiting her brother, E. K., who is confined in jail here awaiting result of his appeal to the higher court. Ross Bastin is running the telephone exchange at Crab Orchard for awhile. S. C. Franklin, foreman on Signal, is better after a severe spell of something like appendicitis.

The stock subscribers of the deposit bank of Mt. Vernon met at 2 P. M. Saturday and elected Mr. J. Miller, president; Dr. John M. Williams, vice president; S. H. Martin, Geo. Livesey, Sr., Jonas McKenzie, A. T. Fish, Gus Gustavson, J. T. Adams, W. J. Sparks, directors. A committee was appointed to purchase safe and office fixtures; a building committee was also named. The institution will begin business on Sept. 15th, with W. L. Richards, of Glencoe, Ky., as cashier. Mt. Vernon has long needed a bank and we anticipate other enterprises that have long lain dormant here will now be revived and the old town and county will continue to improve, even faster than it has in the past few years.

Butler Engleman has two very fierce yard dogs of which he is very proud, their sense of smell being so acute as to tell a democrat from a white republican. This was demonstrated during the last county campaign. Letcher Owsley called to pay his respects and to announce his candidacy for county attorney. Although the dogs were in the yard they did not attack him. The next day his opponent, W. McC. Johnson, called, and before he got half way up the walk, they tackled him. His sudden departure alone, enabling him to scale the fence with a whole pair of trousers. Ed Norris vouches for the truth of this and says that the dogs know the politics of their master.

RICHARD COBB, SR.

DEATH OF ONE OF THE OLDEST AND BEST CITIZENS.

After several long months of illness, Mr. Richard Cobb, Sr., passed peacefully away at 1 P. M. Friday. He was 82 years of age last March, having been born on the edge of Estill and Madison counties in 1818. Fifty-eight years ago he married Miss Minerva Parks, who, at the age of 78, survives him. They had eight children, all except three having preceded them to the great beyond. The living are Mrs. Thomas Phelps, of Madison, Mrs. Bettie McKinney and Richard Cobb, Jr., and they were present when the end came. Mr. and Mrs. Cobb moved to this county in 1856 and lived until last year on the farm they then bought, when they moved to town. In addition to raising their own children, they raised seven grandchildren, some of whom never knew any other parents, and "Castle Cobb" was always a fond resort of children and grandchildren.

Mr. Cobb was a splendid citizen and true follower of the Lord. For more than three score years, he was a member of the Christian church, in whose councils he stood very high and from the regular services of which he was rarely absent. His was the christianity that displayed itself in all his acts. Like Enoch he walked with God and as he walked in apparent obliviousness to all surroundings he would repeat his favorite Psalms "Lord, Thou has been our dwelling place, &c." and "Bless, the Lord, oh my soul and all that is within me bless His holy name." In the hour of trial and bereavement when death took one after another of his family, he sought shelter under the wings of the Almighty. His faith never failed him. Noble and generous by nature, his door stood open to hospitalities. He gave of his substance to feed the poor and no appeal ever went unanswered. He was in every sense a man after his Maker's own heart and that he now enjoys the promises to the faithful, no one who has faith in God can doubt.

Mr. Cobb was the son of Jesse Cobb and Edith Oldham, who had 12 children, he the youngest, and the last to die. His parents were of sturdy English stock and came of the pioneer families, who went from the Virginia colonies to North Carolina and thence to Kentucky, giving to it many honorable and useful citizens. Mr. Cobb's father was a man of fine education, sterling integrity and financial ability and represented Estill county in the Legislature in 1823, when only the best men were elected to that office. His wife was a daughter of Richard Oldham, of revolutionary fame.

No couple ever lived more happily together than this one, now separated after 58 years of wedded life, and to her who is left the sincerest sympathy is felt. She leaned on him for nearly three-score years and comforted and sustained him as only a true wife can. Their union was made in heaven and it may be truly said they spent their lives to the honor and glory of God.

The Christian church was packed Sunday morning, when the funeral sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Allen, who read the 90th and 103d Psalm and spoke fittingly of the life of the grand old soldier of the cross, commending his example and appealing for its emulation. Then the sons-in-law and grandsons bore the casket out of the church and followed it to the cemetery with a procession of 150 vehicles and consigned the remains to the earth, after a few remarks and a prayer by the preacher. Floral tributes were banked high on the mound by loving hands and the weeping and sympathetic assembly dispersed.

A good man has fallen. Earth weeps, heaven rejoices!
